

WHILE WE WAIT

Instructions:

The map to the right shows the long distance that Abraham's servant Eliezer took to return to Abraham's homeland and find a wife for Isaac. It was no small wait for Isaac as he anticipated who God would bring and it wasn't easy for Rebekah to wait the journey either.

The most direct route was 500 miles long but a more common route between the lands was 900 miles long. They made this journey on camels (no planes back then!) so imagine the thoughts that went through their head.

What are some things you are waiting for?

Write them down below and post it in your room so you can pray over them this week.
